Message From The Head Writer

The Future Make No Plans, It just happens.

-Bradley Clark

Apocalyptic Sci-fi is not a new genre by any means in fact these are the stories within sci-fi that have intrigued millions over the globe for many many years.

I write this in the hope that the Events that cause the Contingency Plan to be actioned never happen. That we stick to the plan of the evolution of consciousness vs darwinism collision we seem so destined to have.

The Story of the contingency plan was manifested by the hopes and disasters of humanity. The glimmer of darkness and light that exists in all of us. Knowing with every choice we make, the way we raise our children, the way we live and see things have collective repercussions that we can almost immediately fathom with addition to the things we never see coming that were so obvious.

But what is an end without a new beginning and vice versa while it may be a loop of what ifs and maybes it's the stuff in between that matters..... the journey

The Journey of survivors in a seemly unsurvivable terrain battling against unimaginable odds may seem trivial a bit cliché but the context i hope serves as a metaphorical warning to those who exist outside reality and those that accept theirs too easily.

Let Our Journey Begin.

C.P THE CONTINGENCY PLAN: WRITTEN BY BRADLEY CLARK

The UK Is caught within the aftermath of two nuclear fallouts disturbing what lies beneath the the surface of both reality and humanity. Contingency plan Follows the dramatic fall of man, the possible redemption and the rise of the Nephilim.

SEASON 1 IN BRIEF

Summary

Set in London in the aftermath of 2 nuclear fallouts over Europe destroying the majority of London now awash with contamination, underground tunnels filled to the brim with desperation & fear.

In the build up to the 1st strike from an unknown source. The "Nuke" is forced down to explode on the offshore island Brazil Aye by American intervention. An ancient Babylonian portal is disturbed and activates causing the whole earth to burn in a sporadic rings of nuclear fire knocking out major areas of human activity indirectly. In the aftermath America is blamed for testing a new weapon without proper intel of the deserted island.

With Jerusalem completely destroyed The remainder of Israelites and Palestinians form together and launch the remainder of known nuclear weapons towards the west and the east leaving only a few pockets of life left.

A prophecy of a burning earth, sunken cities rising, Combined with the overwhelming stench of death means the Nephilim are destined to rise up to clear the foundation and start a new. With the hidden secrets of history coming back to poison hope of the Present.

What was planned before was survival.... what exists is the ruins of the past, The future makes no plans

Season 1 covers the life of Gable Jones and Shane Dale in the beginnings of fallouts with flashbacks of their former lives and glimpses of the politics of a third world war/extinction level event & details the people put in charge of creating the Contingency Plan.

Places and objects of interest:

The Gardens: as part of the Contingency Plan Underground gardens were set up to hold the chosen and help maintain the country's survival in a nuclear fallout/extinction level event.

The Farm: A man known only as the farmer surrounded by hulk like mutants called the farmers boys that Collects the remains of the countryside and farms them, considering that there no animals near by his meat and milk are strange. However livestock is in abundance from all the tin cans he has.

The Tunnels: The remnants of the london underground system which is now used as a base for the london tribes; Crawlers, Stands, Fallen which evolved over the years from the gardens.

The Gap: the patch of land burned in the uk by the radiation of the nuclear fallout. Acts as a no-mans land between Scotland & England.

The Lost Shark: The Last Nuclear Submarine known in Scotland. Called the Lost Shark as its the only thing that swims in the irradiated sea. Commandeered by The Flock of Murder Leader The Raven Of Edinburgh.

The Rest: Is the only land where food can grow without contaminates in scotland and is protected & maintained by the house of Graham-Forsyth.

Echelon: the only existing form of transmitter broadcast system designed to work during a fallout zone by american arms companies. They keep communication open for marines on the battlefield and are known to be able to contact base set around the globe due to a certain signature given off by an american nuclear EMPs. Runs on cold fusion and hydro pressure a new form of steam electricity. The last known working device is in the hands of a neo scottish tribe called Boyd-Brothwick who's motto is Confido Qui Conducit (I Trust He Who Leads) a cult like clan with an unknown leader that wears hood covering his face called the Raven of Edinburgh.

The Cover: An area protected by an impenetrable biodome thought to be the original resting place for gardens inhabitants. The status of the area now is unknown due to "A Fault" stopping the

Babylon: Not Much is known about the depot other than it was designed to save millions at the cost of billions. A space station that can hold up to 1 million of the worlds most valuable intellectual minds. Its location and key are Guarded by the military outfit called the guardians

The Red Place: Said to be the place where the 1st people "Fell" The Fallen Swarm to the red place for reasons unknown other than the walls nearby are covered in blood.

The Stone Wall: is a divide set up by Crosbie-Dalmahoy and The Stands surrounding The Rest and the Borders of scotland.

The Archive: said to be in the heart of london under the foundations of London Bridges. Its a circle of information covered in 20 ft of concrete spanning the Original City of London.

Jericho: A voice in the wall that blocks entry to the garden Gable Jones reports to every 3 days while underground it is unknown whether or not Jericho is a person or a program to keep survivors sane. All that is known is that the wall of Jericho speaks to all fondly.

Factions Season 1

Crosbie-Dalmahoy

the motto: I Shall rise again Without fear. A a defiant warrior clan from Glasgow Lead by Rose of Dundee. A woman who has suffered under the house of Boyd-Brothwick due to her refusal to burn a remaining defiant village refusing to follow her orders from the raven. A mutiny ensues the village is burned and she is court marshaled and sentenced to death. Mr vicious organises a jailbreak to avenge the death of his brother that lived in the defiant village. They control the lowlands of scotland a sparse landscape with few water sources. Their Soldiers are Called the Thorns as they protect The Rose.

Graham-Forsyth

The motto “Do not forget Troubles are connected with the cross”

a neutral clan who survives via trade and repairs lead by an “old” married couple collectively known as the Parents and their soldiers are called The Kids as they are essentially teenagers taken in by the parents.

The Nephilm

Believed to be the earths ultimate defense mechanism the nephilm are one of the 1st beings in existence. Hibernating in the core they rise up and destroy everything so things can start again.

Occasionally they send wanderers out to scout for food often snacking on species they like the taste of. They know no masters, they know no mercy.

Character Breakdowns

Gable Jones

Summary: A man who feels he has been set free by disaster by his killing his wife Jane with his own hands, only to find she was with child as he leaves the house. He finds both solace and a sense of deserving in the darkness of the underground, although strange sounds chill him to the bone. Surviving the Hostiles ravaging the tunnels, he negotiates the communities in the rubble of London. He lives with the hope that he can be reunited with Sarah. A lady Gable Jones shares a cabin with him on the bullet train to the garden.

Sarah X

Summary: shares a seat with on the bullet train who forms a bond with the troubled soul. often leaving gable clues in the form of clocks and watches she sets to 10:10 as her innocent nature like to leave him a smile. Sedated gable awakes in pockets while inside the garden. his grief often turning to rage. what is not confirmed is whether sarah is her real name or if she is a figment of Gables fractured mind, but her ghost remains in his thoughts often speaking to him.

Jane Jones

Summary: Gable jones pregnant former crack addicted problematic wife. Became addicted to crack due to her brother shane having an endless supply of medicated crack to numb his pain of war. Pregnant she stops taking crack in hopes to start a new life with Gable in the Garden. Meeting with Gable in the house to collect things for their new life and to announce her pregnancy. Gable however has Other Intentions, intentions he justified before the act. Shane has her house Swept 2 hours after Gable had left her to die. After knowing he couldn't reverse what he had done Gable removes the hand cuffs so that he can hold her one last time, and surrounds Her body with drug paraphernalia in the basement of her home staging her overdose like he originally planned. Shane get the intel far too late with the drone sent into the house timing out with the EMP blast, after finding her body in the basement "Her Drifting Spot" he confirms his worst fears carrying the guilt of not being there for her or helping more to ensure her survival. Shane Tells Gable she must of died in the rubble to spare him the horrible truth he believes he knows. As Gable's alibi of him visiting his mother before being picked up checks out as they were meant to meet there. Proof of the kill has yet to be confirmed by either Gable or Shane but given the circumstances her survival is unlikely.

Shane Dale

Summary: Brother in law to Gable Jones. Has experience in Black ops as a result he was able to take 2 family members below the age of 50 with him to the gardens. He chose his newly sober sister and Gable Jones her husband released prematurely from prison after suffering an attempted murder charge for beating one of Jane's drug dealers into a coma. His sister Jane didn't make it to the garden. He blames himself for her death. Unbeknownst to him is that Gable Jones handcuffed her and apparently killed her with an overdose, a crime he will not admit to out of self-preservation and guilt. Shane is one of the first to venture to the surface and lead one of the first communities trying to contact the outside world, torn and looking for salvation. Loses Gable in the tunnel after a skirmish with the Fallen which splits the group in two. This relieves and tortures him as he was yet again powerless to stop an event but he doesn't have to live with facing a man who he had lied to about the death of his wife....Gable.

Mr Vicious

Summary: Apparently a former Punk artist from the early 80's. That led a government splinter cell in exchange for his "problems to go away" that soared through the ranks of the black ops elite. Earned the name due to his negotiations and retaliations and punk relatives. His team manages to capture a strange creature wreaking havoc along the Yorkshire moors before the fallout and he believes the new species are responsible for the animal-like injuries found in the tunnels. He plans to reunite with his brother in the highlands only to find his village had been burned to the ground. He forms an alliance with a pebble dash of local tribes forming the House of Crosbie-Dalmahoy and investigates the genocide of an otherwise humble village of which his brother lived.

After he returned to the "Pipes" He finds the crawlers inhabiting areas of importance forms a ratpack of insurgents called the Stands as all of his investigations point to a major nest of these creatures are in London.

Raven Of Edinburgh:

Summary: a Ruthless Figure cloaked in a hood often seen leading the charge in tribal battles. Born as a symbol during the chaos that engulfed Scotland during the fall of the government. It is believed that the Raven was a pilot for the navy and he lives in a submarine in a Scottish lake. Only speaking to a select few in the guises of “mages” and Generals Obsessed with the notion that the Scottish are keepers of the grail he has teams search the depths of the highlands looking for “magic” ie any old technology that can be used to control the masses and rid him of the Thorns in his side. His clan are fearless mainly due to crack addiction and religious indoctrination and swarm over opposition in the form of the Flock of Murder. The Motives are of survival in an obliterated landscape in which order has to be set in place, order by any means.

Rose Of Dundee

Summary: Once a Warrior for the house of Boyd-Brothwick The Rose was born on the battlefield when she defended a bunker holding her family. She agreed to join the Ravens cause for medication for her terminally ill brother which was fulfilled believing his cause to be just and for the good of Scotland and his intention were honorable. Upon her disobedience the Raven had the bunker destroyed as punishment and upon her Jail-time her brother died of famine.

Demanding vengeance she agreed to lead a rebel faction called the Thorns a small swarm of survivors of Boyd-Brothwick regime later setting up the house of Crosbie-Dalmahoy with the help of Mr Vicious and the Two Tribes War For territory in Scotland.

Ma and Da (The Parents)

Summary: Leaders of the House of Graham-Forsyth rumored to be once well off or neighbours to an elderly millionaire couple as they are middle aged at best. More of a pacifist form of leadership as they house the Kids in Scotland providing education and food. They Own Largest bunker out of the clans and the kids make sure they are safe. Pa has Vast knowledge of civil engineering and Ma Used to be a Head Sister in a london Hospital they operate as a trade centre for common folk and condemn the warring factions affecting the business and solidarity they are meant to be building. Often treating the wounded on both sides which in turn defect to their pacifistic cause for those that are lucky enough to be rescued.
